SMALL HYDRO POWER POLICY - 2007

1. SCOPE AND POLICY OBJECTIVE :

(1) This policy envisages private participation in development of small hydro projects with certain attractive incentives. Apart from being eco-friendly and renewable, the micro/mini/small hydro projects are low in gestation period and ideal for viable investment for State's domestic power requirement.

(2) This policy also envisages for formulation and notification of an Action Plan for Small Hydro Power Generation. The Action Plan shall provide programs for capacity addition and determine the extent of involvements of various stake holders of state Government/Agencies in the field. The players in this sector can be among private entrepreneurs, cooperative societies and NGOs in the State with the objectives of meeting the growing demand of power under this policy.

2. BASIC CLASSIFICATION OF PROJECTS :

Small Hydro Projects are classified under this policy in three categories as under :

Category - I : Projects having installed capacities of above 1 MW and upto 25 MW shall have the capability of operating in both Grid and Isolation mode. This category of projects will have all components and features of conventional hydro power projects providing Grid Quality Power.

Category - II : Projects having installed capacities of above 100 KW and up to 1000 KW shall be designed for stand alone mode for providing dedicated power to a village or a habitat or a locality or a cluster of villages with or without connectivity to grid. The power supply to the consumers shall be provided either at High Voltage or Low Voltage systems as the case may be.

Category - III : Projects having installed capacities of up to 100 KW shall be designed for stand alone mode dedicated to a village or a habitat directly distributing power to the households without high tension systems.

3. INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES :

This policy envisages investment opportunities for private and other non-government entrepreneurs in development of Small Hydro Projects in all the categories classified under this policy.

The developer shall be provided with open access facility for which a separate agreement has to be settled with the State Transmission Utility (STU) at a tariff determined by the SERC/State Government.

(2) Merchant Power Producers (MPPs) : This category of power producers shall produce power under this policy to sale power to limited number of permitted pre-determined third party (or parties), preferably heavy power consuming industries set up within the State. The MPPs shall be provided with open access facility for which an agreement has to be settled with the State Transmission Utility (STU) before final decision of investment. The State is not bound to purchase MPPs power under this policy. However, the State reserves the right to purchase power at a price as may be determined by the State/SERC. MPPs shall not be eligible for retail sale of power to general consumers to replicate the function of a DISCOM without a license.

PART - I

Appointment, promotions, powers and personal notices issued by the Governor.

ORDER

The 22nd February, 2008

No. Misc Case No. 1/2006.—Whereas, a Scheduled Tribe Certificate vide No. YKJ-414/999 dated 3rd February, 1992 was issued in favour of Smti Geeta Apang, W/O Sri Anom Apang of Karko village under Jengging Circle of Upper Siang district, Arunachal Pradesh.

Whereas, on verification of status and background, it has been found that the said Smti Geeta Apang is a Manipuri by birth and descent and as such, she is not entitled to Scheduled Tribe status of Arunachal Pradesh by virtue of her marriage with Sri Anom Apang who is a Scheduled Tribe of Arunachal Pradesh.

And whereas, an order Vide No. YKJ-457/97-98 cancelling the said STC of Smti Geeta Apang was issued by the DC, Yingkiong on 26th June, 2002 and Smti Geeta Apang has challenged the said cancellation order in Gauhati High Court Vide WP (c) No. 130 (AP) 2004.

And whereas, the Hon'ble Gauhati High Court, Itanagar Permanent Bench, Naharlagun had disposed of the case in WP (C) No. 130 (AP) 2004 dated 14th June, 2005 by setting aside the said cancellation order on the ground that the principle of natural justice was not followed before passing the final order by the DC, Yingkiong.

And whereas, in pursuance of the said judgement of the Hon'ble Gauhati High Court, Itanagar Permanent Bench, Naharlagun in WP (C) No. 130 (AP) 2004 dated 14th June, 2005 the DC, Yingkiong had issued a notice vide No. YKJ-457/97-98 dated 30th August, 2005 requiring Smti Geeta Apang @ Geeta Singh, D/O Lt. Maino Singh to show cause/explain within one month as to why the STC No. YKJ-414/999 dated 3rd February, 1992 issued in her favour should not be cancelled.

And whereas, in her reply to the said notice dated 30th August, 2005, Smti Geeta Apang @ Geeta Singh has claimed that DC, Upper Siang District, Yingkiong is not the appropriate authority to cancel the said STC as the original issuing authority is JMFC, East Siang District, Yingkiong who was acting under authority of the DC, East Siang District, Pasighat.

And whereas, Smti Geeta Apang @ Geeta Singh was given opportunity of being heard in person at a hearing on 12th February, 2008 which had been subsequently re-fixed on 22nd February, 2008 at her request citing personal grounds for her inability to attend on 12th February, 2008.

And whereas, Smti Geeta Apang @ Geeta Singh has expressed her inability to appear before the undersigned on 22nd February, 2008 to citing her ill health and unavoidable domestic problem and further prayed to proceed and decide the case ex-parte relying on her show cause reply dated 26th, September, 2005.

And whereas, in terms of the office order No. 35/1/72-R.U (SCT.V) dated 2nd May, 1975 issued by the Ministry of Home Affairs, Government of India. the guiding principle of Scheduled Tribe or Scheduled Caste status is that " No person who was not Scheduled Tribe or Scheduled Caste by birth will be deemed to be a member of a Scheduled Tribe or Scheduled Caste merely because he or she had married a person belonging to Scheduled Tribe or Scheduled Caste and similarly, a person who is member of Scheduled Tribe or Scheduled Caste as the case may be, even after his or her marriage with a person who does not belong to Scheduled Tribe or Scheduled Caste".

And whereas, after considering and examining the case records, the said office order dated 2nd May, 1975 issued by the Ministry of Home Affairs, Government of India and reply of the respondent Smti Geeta Apang @ Geeta Singh, it has been observed that :-

1. Mrs Geeta Singh, D/O Lt. Maino Singh of Lakhi Nepali, PS -Jonai, District Dhemaji (Assam) had obtained a Scheduled Tribe Certificate No. YKJ-414/999 dated 3rd February, 1992 by virtue of her marriage with Sri Anom Apang (a member of Scheduled Tribe of Arunachal Pradesh) though she was not eligible for grant of Arunachal Pradesh Scheduled Tribe status as per the said Ministry of Home Affairs order No. 35/1/72-R.U (SCT.V) dated 2nd May, 1975.

2. The contention of Smti Geeta Apang @ Geeta Singh in her reply dated 26th September, 2005 that the DC, Upper Siang District, Yingkiong is not the appropriate authority to cancel the said Scheduled Tribe Certificate No. YKJ-414/999 dated 3rd February, 1992 issued in favour of Smti Geeta Apang @ Geeta Singh as the said Scheduled Tribe Certificate was issued by the JMFC, East Siang District, Yingkiong under authority of the DC, East Siang District, Pasighat does not hold any ground as the Administrative and territorial jurisdiction of Yingkiong on creation of Upper Siang District consequent to bifurcation from East Siang District in 1995 stands vested with the DC, Upper Siang District, Yingkiong.

3. Mrs Geeta Apang @ Geeta Singh was afforded ample opportunity to show cause and to appear in person for hearing on the instant case on 12th February, 2008 and 22nd February, 2008.

4. "Birth" alone is the touch-stone to decide tribe and any person who is not Scheduled Tribe by birth will not be deemed to be a member of Scheduled Tribe by virtue of marriage with a member of Scheduled Tribe.

5. The said Scheduled Tribe Certificate No. YKJ-414/999 dated 3rd February, 1992 issued in favour of Mrs Geeta Apang is thus liable to be cancelled.

In the light of foregoing paragraphs and facts and circumstances of the instant case, the said Scheduled Tribe Certificate No. YKJ-414/999 dated 3rd February, 1992 issued in favour of Smti Geeta Apang is hereby canceled with immediate effect and further, direct that Smti Geeta Apang shall surrender the said certificate to this office within 30 days time from the date of receipt of this order.

M. Tayeng,
Deputy Commissioner,
Upper Siang District,
Yingkiong.

OFFICE MEMORANDUM

Subject :— Procedure to be observed by Departmental Promotion Committees (DPCs) - No supersession in 'selection' promotion - Revised Guidelines regarding.

(i) DoP&T O.M. No. 22011/5/86-Estt (D) dated 10.3.1989.

(ii) DoP&T O.M. No. 22011/5/86-Estt (D) dated 10.4.1989.

(iii) DoP&T O.M. No. 22011/5/91- Estt (D) dated 27.3.1997.

The undersigned is directed to invite reference to the Department of Personnel and Training (DoP&T) Office Memorandum (O.M.) No.22011/5/86-Estt(D) dated 10th March, 1989 and O.M. of even number dated 10th April, 1989 [as amended by O.M. No. 22011/5/91-Estt(D) dated 27th March, 1997] which contain the instructions on the Departmental Promotion Committees (DPCs) and related matters. In regard to the 'selection' mode of promotion ('selection-cum-seniority' and 'selection by merit'), the aforesaid instructions prescribe the guidelines (as briefly discussed in paragraph 2 below) for overall 'grading' to be given by the DPC, 'bench-mark' for assessment of performance and the manner in which the 'select panel' has to be arranged for promotions to various levels of post/grade.

2. Existing Guidelines :

2.1 As per the existing (aforementioned) instructions, in promotions up to and excluding the level in the pay-scale of Rs.12,000-16,500 (excepting promotions to Group 'A' posts/services from the lower group), if the mode happens to be 'selection-cum-seniority', then the bench-mark prescribed is 'good' and officers obtaining the said bench-mark are arranged in the select panel in the order of their seniority in the lower (feeder) grade. Thus, there is no supersession among those who meet the said bench-mark. Officers getting a grading lower than the prescribed bench-mark ('good') are not empanelled for promotion.

2.2 In the case of promotions from lower Groups to Group 'A', while the mode of promotion happens to be 'selection by merit', the bench-mark prescribed is 'good' and only those officers who obtain the said bench-mark are promoted in the order of merit as per grading obtained. Thus, officers getting a superior grading supersede those getting lower grading. In other words, an officer graded as 'outstanding' supersedes those graded as 'very good' and an officer graded as 'very good' supersedes officers graded as 'good'. Officers obtaining the same grading are arranged in the select panel in the order of their seniority in the lower grade. Those who get a grading lower than the prescribed bench-mark ('good') are not empanelled for promotion.

2.3 In promotions to the level in the pay-scale of Rs. 12,000-16,500 and above, while the mode of promotion is 'selection by merit', the bench-mark prescribed is 'very good' and only those officers who obtain the said bench-mark are promoted in the order of merit as per the grading obtained, officers getting superior grading supersede those getting lower grading as explained in paragraph 2.2 above. Officers obtaining the same grading are arranged in the select panel in the order of their seniority in the lower grade. Those who get a grading lower than the prescribed bench-mark ('very good') are not empanelled for promotion.

3. Revised Guidelines :

The aforementioned guidelines which permit supersession in 'selection' promotion ('selection by merit') have been reviewed by the Government and after comprehensive/extensive examination of relevant issues it has been decided that there should be no supersession in matter of 'selection' (merit) promotion at any level. In keeping with the said decision, the following revised promotion norms/ guidelines, in partial modification (to the extent relevant for the purpose of these instructions) of all existing instructions on the subject (as referred to in paragraph 1 above) are prescribed in the succeeding paragraphs for providing guidance to the Departmental Promotion Committees (DPCs).

3.1 Mode of Promotion :

In the case of 'selection' (merit) promotion, the hitherto existing distinction in the nomenclature ('selection by merit' and 'selection-cum-seniority') is dispensed with and the mode of promotion in all such cases is rechristened as 'selection' only. The element of selectivity (higher or lower) shall be determined with reference to the relevant bench-mark ("Very Good" or "Good") prescribed for promotion.

3.2 'Bench-Mark' for promotion :

The DPC shall determine the merit of those being assessed for promotion with reference to the prescribed bench-mark and accordingly grade the officers as 'fit' or 'unfit' only. Only those who are graded 'fit' (i.e. who meet the prescribed bench-mark) by the DPC shall be included and arranged in the select panel in order to their inter-se seniority in the feeder grade. Those officers who are graded 'unfit' (in terms of the prescribed bench-mark) by the DPC shall not be included in the select panel. Thus, there shall be no supersession in promotion among those who are graded 'fit' (in terms of the prescribed bench-mark) by by the DPC.

3.2.1. Although among those who meet the prescribed bench-mark, inter-se seniority of the feeder grade shall remain intact, eligibility for promotion will no doubt be subject to fulfilment of all the conditions laid down in the relevant Recruitment/Service Rules, including the conditions that one should be the holder of the relevant feeder post on regular basis and that he should have rendered the prescribed eligibility service in the feeder post.

3.3 Promotion to the revised pay-scale (grade) of Rs. 12,000-16,500 and above :

(i) The mode of promotion, as indicated in paragraph 3.1 above, shall be 'selection'.

(ii) The bench-mark for promotion, as it is now, shall continue to be 'very good'. This will ensure element of higher selectivity in comparison to selection promotions to the grades lower than the aforesaid level where the bench-mark, as indicated in the following paragraphs, shall be 'good' only.

(iii) The DPC shall for promotions to said pay-scale (grade) and above, grade officers as 'fit 'or 'unfit' only with reference to the bench-mark of 'very good'. Only those who are graded as 'fit' shall be included in the select panel prepared by the DPC in order of their inter-se seniority in the feeder grade. Thus, as already explained in paragraph 3.2 above, there shall be no supersession in promotion among those who are found 'fit' by the DPC in terms of the aforesaid prescribed bench-mark of 'very good'.

3.4 Promotion to grades below the revised pay-scale (grade) of Rs. 12,000 -16,500 (including promotions from lower Groups to Group 'A' posts/grades/services) :

(i) The mode of promotion, as indicated in paragraph 3.1 above, shall be 'selection'.

(ii) The bench-mark for promotion, as it is now, shall continue to be 'good'.

(iii) The DPC shall for promotion to posts/grades/services in the aforesaid categories, grade officers as 'fit' or 'unfit' only with reference to the bench-mark of 'good'. Only those who are graded as 'fit' shall be included in the select panel prepared by the DPC in order of their inter-se seniority in the feeder grade. Thus, as already explained in paragraph 3.2 above, there shall be no supersession in promotion among those who are found 'fit' by the DPC in terms of the aforesaid prescribed bench-mark of 'good'.

3.5 Zone of consideration :

DoP&T O.M. No. 22011/1/90-Estt(D) dated 12.10.1990.

The guidelines relating to the 'zone of consideration' in its existing form (twice the number of vacancies plus four) shall continue to have general application. However, in view of the modifications in promotion norms indicated in paragraph 3.3 above, the following stipulation [as is already applicable in the case of promotions below the revised pay- scale (grade) of Rs. 12,000-16,500 vide DoP&T O.M. No. 22011/8/98- Estt (D) dated 6th November, 1998.] is also made in the regard to the zone of consideration for promotion to the revised pay-scale (grade) of Rs. 12,000-16,500 and above :

"While the zone of consideration would remain as already prescribed, the DPC, in the aforesaid category of cases, may assess the suitability of eligible employees in the zone of consideration (in the descending order) for inclusion in the panel for promotion up to a number which is considered sufficient against the number of vacancies. With regard to the number of employees to be included in the panel, the DPC may also be required to keep in view the instructions issued vide Department of Personnel and Training Office Memorandum No. 22011/18/87-Estt (D) dated 9th April, 1996 relating to norms for preparing extended panel for promotion. In respect of the remaining employees, the DPC may put a note in the minutes that the assessment of the remaining employees in the zone of consideration is considered not necessary as sufficient number of employees with prescribed bench-mark have become available".

4. Provisions of the paragraph 1 (vii) of the DoP&T O.M. No. AB-14017/2/97 - Estt (RR) dated 25th May, 1998 stand modified in accordance with these revised instructions. In addition to this, if the guidelines contained in this Office Memorandum come in conflict with the provisions of any other executive instructions (O.M.) issued by DoP&T on this subject, the same shall be taken to be modified to the extent provided herein.

5. The instructions contained in this Office Memorandum shall come into force from the date of its issue.

6. Ministries/Departments are requested to give wide circulation to these revised instructions for general guidance in the matter so that immediate steps are taken to amend the Service Rules/Recruitment Rules of various services/posts/grades so as to appropriately incorporate the mode of promotion as 'selection' (in accordance with these instructions) in place of 'selection by merit' and 'selection-cum-seniority' (as was hitherto prescribed by the aforementioned O.M. dated 27th March, 1997) as the case may be. The powers to amend Service Rules/Recruitment Rules in this regard are delegated to the Ministries/Departments. DoP&T need not be consulted to carry out the required amendments.

Alok Saxena,
Deputy Secretary to the Government of India.

RESOLUTION

The 20th September, 2008

State Rehabilitation and Resettlement Policy, 2008.

No. LM-20/2005.—Whereas, the Government of Arunachal Pradesh, in the Department of Land Management, have formulated a State Rehabilitation and Resettlement Policy, 2007 ;

And, whereas, the Government of Arunachal Pradesh desire that the contents of the said Policy be brought to the notice of general public and given wide publicity ;

Now, therefore, it is directed that the State Rehabilitation and Resettlement Policy, 2008, given in the Schedule hereto annexed be published in the Gazette of Arunachal Pradesh.

SCHEDULE

STATE REHABILITATION AND RESETTLEMENT POLICY, 2008

CHAPTER - I

1. Preamble

1.1 Arunachal Pradesh is the land of tribes, forests and rivers. It has 26 major tribes and over 110 sub-tribes and 81.22 % of its land is under forest cover. Due to mountainous terrain and forests, area under agriculture is less, mostly confined to valleys. Tribal people of the State rely heavily on forests as a major source of fuel, construction material, food, fodder and income, and the forests also constitute the basis of their culture. Thus, forest is a source of sustenance for tribal people and their culture.

1.2 It is in the national interest and it is also the need of the development of the State to harness huge hydropower potential of Arunachal Pradesh as also to create basic infrastructure to meet the demand of development. At the same time it is absolutely imperative for the State Government to take due care of the interests of the people affected by the development projects including hydropower and other mega projects.

1.3 The development of hydropower projects and surface infrastructure, in view of large forest cover in the State and some habitations falling within the project area necessitates diversion of forest lands, private land and relocation of habitations. While a comprehensive policy and legislation do exist to compensate for the adverse effects of such diversion on environment and forest, which are the source for the sustenance of livelihoods and culture of tribal people, in actual practice the traditional rights of tribal community over land use in Unclassed State Forest (USF) is not fully recognized for compensation.

1.4 The National Rehabilitation and Resettlement Policy, 2007 (NRRP-2007) emphasizes that although the NRRP-2007 provides for the basic minimum requirements, the State Governments, Public Sector Undertakings or agencies and other requiring bodies shall be at liberty to put in place greater benefit levels than those prescribed in the NRRP-2007.

1.5 Of late, the Government of India has addressed the long felt need of recognizing and vesting the forest rights and occupation in forest land in forest dwelling Scheduled Tribes and other forest dwellers through enactment of Scheduled Tribes and other Traditional Forest Dwellers (Recognition of Forest Rights) Act, 2006. As per Section (2) (a) of the Act "community forest resource" means customary common forest land within the traditional or customary boundaries of the village or seasonal use of landscape in the case of pastoral communities; including reserved forests, protected forests and protected areas such as Sanctuaries and National Parks to which the community had traditional access. However, the customary rights of tribal community for land use including jhoom cultivation (shifting cultivation) in USF as practiced in Arunachal Pradesh do not find any mention in the said Act.

1.6 As per the provisions contained in Section 4 (I) of the Balipara/Tirap/Sadiya Frontier Tract Jhum Land Regulation, 1947 (Regulation III, IV and V 1947) a customary right to jhum land shall be deemed to be established in favour of village or a community when such village or a community has enjoyed the right to cultivate or utilize such jhum land for not less than 5 years prior to the making of this Regulation.

1.7 The provisions contained under section 10(1) of the Arunachal Pradesh (Land Settlement and Records) Act 2000 read with the prevailing customary rights of the tribal community makes it clear that the community enjoys the rights not only over 'trees', 'jungles' or 'other natural products' growing on USF land, which traditionally belong to them, but also for land use.

1.8 There is a strong resentment amongst tribal communities that in case of diversion of area under USF over which they enjoy customary rights, their interest is short-changed.

1.9 In tribal and hilly area like Arunachal Pradesh, in accordance with the provisions of the NRRP, 2007 (Chapter VI, Para 6.1), the Rehabilitation and Resettlement Plan is to be prepared if there is enmass involuntary displacement of 200 or more families. Whereas due to very low population density (lowest in the country), in most of the cases, the displacement will not involve 200 families.

1.10 Arunachal Pradesh being a mountainous state heavily forested and drained by numerous rivers and streams, availability of cultivable land is less. Obviously, land suitable for agriculture is a scarce resource. This coupled with the fact that the economy of the State is largely dependent on agriculture and forests; diversion of any piece of cultivable land for a project is bound to have more adverse effect upon tribal community of Arunachal Pradesh than that envisaged in the NRRP-2007. Therefore, the project affected families need to be compensated adequately.

1.11 Thus, it has become necessary for the State Government to have a policy in place to provide for adequate compensation to the tribal community for the adverse social impact and loss of the rights over USF land use and other privileges so as to redress their grievances particularly one which relates to not recognizing their customary rights over USF land use while granting compensation and pave way for smooth implementation of hydropower and other projects.

CHAPTER - II

2. Objectives

2.1 The basic objectives that should govern the State Policy on Rehabilitation of project affected families, acquisition of immovable property, private land including agriculture and horticulture land and compensation against diversion of forest area especially USF area over which community enjoyed rights of land use and various privileges to meet their bonafide requirements of forest produce are as follows :

(i) to minimize displacement and to identify non-displacing or least displacing alternatives ;

(ii) to provide appropriate and adequate compensation to the affected families ;

(iii) to provide adequate social and physical infrastructure at rehabilitation site keeping in view the cultural and emotional values of tribal community as also to provide necessary community services and facilities ;

(iv) to be relocated as village units, community or clan in consultation with the displaced communities;

(v) to improve the standard of living of the project affected displaced families at the resettlement site;

(vi) to compensate adequately the project affected tribal community for the extinction of their traditional rights and privileges of USF land use and collection of forest produce;

(vii) to facilitate harmonious relationship between the Requiring Body and the Project Affected Families;

CHAPTER - III

3. Definitions

3.1 "Community" means the resident of a village as a whole, the clan, sub-clan or kindred.

3.2 Definition of various expressions used in this policy is the same as defined under Chapter-III of the NRRP, 2007 except the definition of "affected area".

3.3 "Affected area" under this policy means area of village or locality notified by the State Government under paragraph 7.2 of this policy.

3.5 "Jhum land" means jhum land as defined in Section 2(b) of the Balipara/Tirap/Sadiya Frontier Tract Jhum Land Regulation, 1947 (Regulation 3,4 and 5 of 1947).

CHAPTER - IV

4. Social Impact Assessment of Projects

4.1 Any new project or expansion of an existing project, which involves involuntary displacement of 20 (twenty) or more families the State Government shall ensure that a Social Impact Assessment study is carried out in the proposed affected areas in such manner as may be prescribed and in accordance with the provisions of the National Policy of Rehabilitation and Resettlement, 2007.

CHAPTER - VI

6. Present Mode of Compensation Package

6.1 At present, the compensation provided to the affected people by any requiring body for acquisition of private land, immovable property and agriculture land is as per the provisions of Land Acquisition Act, 1894 and as per the agreements reached between the requiring body and the affected families/community in consultation with the State Government.

6.2 In case of diverted forest area, irrespective of its legal status, the present set of compensation provided by a requiring body has three components namely, (1) Cost of raising Compensatory Afforestation, (2) Net Present Value (NPV) and (3) Rights and Privileges enjoyed by tribal people living in and around forests. The cost of raising compensatory afforestation and the Net Present Value of the diverted forest land are collected from the user agency and deposited in the fund of Compensatory Afforestation Fund Management and Planning Authority (CAMPA) created for the purpose and constituted by the Government of India in pursuance of the order of Hon'ble Supreme Court. The cost of compensatory afforestation and NPV are charged mainly to redress the loss of forest and environmental services.

6.3 The Rights and Privileges of tribal people, which automatically get extinguished on diversion of forest land, are compensated monetarily. However, the monetary compensation (against diversion of USF area) provided to affected tribal people does not consider and account for the rights of USF land use by the community/ clan/individual. The State Government levies royalty on removal of trees/usufructs from USF area for commercial purpose. Therefore, the present mode of compensation recognizes only the non-commercial rights of tribal people and not the perpetual loss of USF land use caused to the community.

NOTIFICATION

The 14th October, 2008

No. PWRS/HPD/W-1305/2005.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Clause (3) of Article 246, entry No. 17 in Seventh Schedule List-11, State List of the Constitution of India, the Governor of Arunachal Pradesh is pleased to notify the "Hydro Power Policy -2008" in the State as follows :

PREAMBLE

1.1 Arunachal Pradesh is the land of mountains, forests and rivers inhabited by tribal people and the mountainous topography of the state presents an ideal condition for the development of hydro-electric projects. There are five major river basins in the state namely Kameng River Basin, Subansiri River Basin, Siang River Basin, Dibang River Basin and Lohit River Basin. All the major rivers of the State flow in the North-easterly direction and finally drain into the Brahmaputra River. There are many tributaries and distributaries of the said major rivers which also offer suitable sites for the development of hydro-electric power projects.

1.2 As per the study carried out by the Central Electricity Authority (CEA) and individual power developers, the total hydro power potential of the State is estimated at over 57,000 MW. Besides this, the estimated potential for development of micro/mini/small hydel projects is around 1600 MW. Thus, Arunachal Pradesh has emerged as the front runner state of the Union of India as far as hydropower potential is concerned.

1.3 At present the nation is facing huge power shortages. Coupled with this, the growing concern over global warming due to emission of Green House Gases, particularly from coal based power plants, necessitates the development of hydropower potential, which is a renewable and environment friendly source of energy.

1.4 Over 82% area of Arunachal Pradesh is covered under forests and therefore, development of the huge hydropower potential of the State will entail diversion of forest area for the purpose. Nevertheless, once the hydropower projects are developed, they would contribute towards conservation of scarce fossils fuels and also in significantly reducing carbon emissions. The environmental impact due to diversion of forest land is negligible compared to ecological gains on account of reduction of carbon emissions by development of hydro-electric projects.

1.5 The energy generated from hydroelectric projects will not only help in meeting the shortage of power at the national level, but will also help in creating social and development infrastructures, direct and indirect employment opportunities which would eventually result in opening up of further avenues for development in this remote and under developed State.

1.6 The Hydro Power Policy, 2008 of Government of India has underlined the concern that "despite being recognized as a relatively benign and renewable source of energy, the share of hydro power in the overall generating capacity in the country has been steadily declining since 1963."

1.7 In the National Water Policy, 2005, water is envisaged as a prime national resource and in the planning and operation of system; water allocation priority is placed in the order of drinking water, irrigation, hydropower, ecology, agro-industries, non-agro industries, navigation and other uses.

1.8 In the National Electricity Policy formulated by the Government of India in February, 2005, maximum emphasis is laid on the full development of the feasible hydropower potential in the country and the state governments have been advised to review procedures for land acquisition and other clearances for speedy implementation of hydroelectric projects. The Central Government has also given assurance to support the state governments for speedy development of their hydroelectric projects by offering services of CPSUs. In the Policy, the State Governments have been directed to develop workable and successful models for Public Private Partnership, for development of power projects.

1.9 The State has already notified the Small Hydro Power Policy, 2007 for the development of hydro projects up to installed capacity of upto 25 MW.

1.10 The State's Rehabilitation & Resettlement Policy, 2008 for the project affected people has been formulated on the lines of the National Rehabilitation & Resettlement Policy, 2007 providing greater benefits to the affected families in view of scarcity of non-forest land and overdependence of tribal populace on forests. The policy not only addresses the need for improving the living standards of displaced families and their welfare on sustained basis but also strives to minimize displacement, provide adequate compensation as also to facilitate harmonious relationship between the requiring body and the project affected families.

1.11 Admittedly, Arunachal Pradesh is a geologically fragile area. It also falls in category – V of seismic zone. Therefore, development of mega hydropower projects has to take into consideration the high seismicity of the area, which needs to be factored into the construction scheme of such projects. The Electricity Act, 2003 also emphasizes the development of hydro power and safety of the structures including dams etc. There has been apprehension in public about the safety factor of such mega dams being situated in high seismic zones. Therefore, it is imperative on the part of mega hydropower developers to make people aware of the technical and safety standards and non-vulnerability of dam structures against any possible earthquakes in future that the dam area may witness.

1.12 In view of the foregoing facts, the State needs to have a new hydropower policy for the development of projects of installed capacity of more than 25 MW. This policy strives to strike a proper balance between the need for hydropower development to meet the acute shortage of power as also the development needs of the State on the one hand and ecological and peoples' interests on the other. Accordingly, it has become necessary for the State Government to have a hydropower policy in place in consonance of the policy guidelines of Government of India for developing the huge hydropower potential of Arunachal Pradesh with minimum possible damage to environment and ensuring adequate protection to affected peoples' interests.

Chapter - II

OBJECTIVES :

2.1 The Central Government has envisaged a hydropower capacity addition of about 30,000 MW during the 12th Plan. The State Government has set the following broad policy objectives for the development of hydropower projects :

(i) to harness hydropower potential of the State in a manner that is consistent with the provisions of the Electricity Act, 2003 and the National Electricity Policy and other policies formulated under the Act.

(ii) to develop hydropower projects in an eco-friendly manner causing minimum distress to affected people.

(iii) to accelerate the pace of hydropower development through participation of both the Central Public Sector Undertakings and private power developers, as also by formulating Public Private Partnership.

(iv) to provide for creation of social and development infrastructure through hydropower developers for local area development.

(v) to ensure proper rehabilitation and resettlement of project affected people in order to improve their living standards.

(vi) to create job opportunities for local tribal people especially projected affected people.

Chapter – III

Hydropower Potential and Present Status of Power Development

3.1 As stated, Arunachal Pradesh has a hydropower potential of over 57000 MW. The details of River Basin-wise potential is given at Annexure-I.

3.2 So far, there has been dismal growth in the power sector in Arunachal Pradesh despite its huge hydropower potential. Till 2004-05, the State Government could develop 53 micro/mini/small hydropower stations of installed capacity totaling 33.21 MW only. Besides, Ranganadi Hydroelectric Project of capacity 405 MW was developed by NEEPCO in the year 2000-2001.

3.3 Kameng Hydro Electric Project (600 MW) being implemented by NEEPCO is expected to be completed by 2012. Under the State sector, 37 Micro/mini/small projects have been taken up which are at various stages of construction with a target capacity addition of 58.99 MW.

Chapter – IV

Prime Minister's 50,000 MW Hydro Power initiative

4.1 Under the Prime Minister's 50,000 MW hydro power initiatives, the Ministry of Power, Government of India have identified 89 projects in Arunachal Pradesh. Out of these, the Preliminary Feasibility Reports (PFRs) in respect of 42 projects having installed capacity totaling 27,293 MW (approx.) have already been prepared by Government of India. Thus the State of Arunachal Pradesh is privileged to share more than 50% of the PM's 50,000 MW hydro initiative. The details of the said 42 projects are given at Annexure-II.

Chapter – V

State Nodal Agency and Present Set Up for Hydro Power Development.

5.1 The Department of Hydro Power Development, Government of Arunachal Pradesh, has been declared as the State Nodal Agency in order to oversee, co-ordinate and monitor the activities of hydropower development in the State. All the approvals/consents of the State Government relating to development of power projects are conveyed by the Secretary (Power), Government of Arunachal Pradesh or an officer duly authorized by him. Further, in order to accelerate development of hydro power under State sector, the State Government has set up its own public sector undertaking namely the Hydro Power Development Corporation of Arunachal Pradesh Ltd. with the mandate to develop hydro power potential of the State independently as well as in joint venture with private power developers and CPSUs.

Chapter – VI

Incentives to the Developers of Mega Power Projects

6.1 As per the Mega Power Policy of Government of India, the threshold limit to obtain mega project status in case of North-eastern States for hydroelectric projects has been reduced from 500 MW to 350 MW. As per the Policy, the import of capital equipment would be free of custom duties, and deemed export benefits in accordance with the Export Import Policy of Government of India, is extended to developers of mega power projects both in the public and the private sectors. Moreover, income tax holiday of 10 years can be claimed by promoters of mega power projects in any block of 10 years within 10 to15 years. The suggestion made in the Mega Power Policy for waiver of State and Local level cess, taxes and duties leviable on the development and implementation of hydro projects would be considered by the State Government on case to case basis.

Chapter - VII

Preparation of Preliminary Feasibility Reports / Detailed Project Reports

7.1 The State Government shall invite expression of interest from interested persons being either a company or consortium of companies or a corporation, either in the public or private sector and either of Indian or foreign origin for preparation of Preliminary Feasibility Reports (PFRs) and Detailed Project Reports (DPRs). The State Government will give scheme-wise / project-wise consent to the selected person(s) (hereinafter called 'the consultant') for preparation of the Preliminary Feasibility Report (PFR), through the State Nodal Agency under the signature of the Secretary (Power), Government of Arunachal Pradesh or the officer duly authorized by him. The State Government may also authorize Arunachal Pradesh State Hydro Power Corporation the task of PFRs/DPRs for the development of the Hydro Power Projects.

7.2. The proposal for site clearance received from the consultant will be processed by the State Forest and Environment Department only after receiving explicit NOC/ consent from the Department of Hydro Power Development.

7.3 The consultant shall submit Pre-feasibility Report (PFR) to the Secretary (Power), Government of Arunachal Pradesh. The State Government, after due examination and scrutiny of the PFR, shall intimate the consultant the consent or otherwise of the State Government for further detailed survey and investigation and preparation of the Detailed Project Report (DPR).

7.4 The proposal for approval of the 'Terms of Reference' received from the consultant will be processed by the State Environment and Forest Department only after getting explicit NOC / consent of the State Government, and sent to the Ministry of Environment & Forests, Government of India. A flow chart detailing various steps involved in seeking forest and wildlife clearances is annexed at Annexures-III and IV.

The State Government may at its sole discretion consider and grant opportunity / role to the consultant in the development of the said project, including an opportunity to pick up equity stake in the project, of which the DPR has been submitted by him and which has been duly approved by the State Government.

Chapter – VIII

Development of hydro power projects above 25 MW and up to 100 MW

8.1 The State Government may award the projects which have the projected capacity between 25 MW to 100 MW to persons, including private developers, through a negotiated MoA route.

8.2 In respect of the projects envisaging projected capacity between 25 MW to 100 MW which have already been awarded to private developers on the negotiated MoA route and in cases, where the final capacity as per the DPR exceeds 100 MW, necessary enhancement in the installed capacity of the project would be allowed, if the committee constituted for the purpose by the Government of Arunachal Pradesh recommends and provided the developer agrees for the development of the project in joint venture with the State Government in which the State Government would be offered 26% of the equity stake.

Chapter – IX

Chapter - XI

Development of power projects through joint venture route.

11.1 Considering the substantial potential for development of Hydro Power Sector in the State of Arunachal Pradesh, the State should also embark upon the path of development of its Power Potential through Joint Venture model, on BOOT basis. The Joint Venture model has ostensible benefits, wherein the State becomes active partner in the development of the Project and thus enjoys the fruits of Return on Equity as well as that of Free Power. In the said model, the State would also be able to regulate the progress of the development of the Project, by having active participation at the Board level of such Joint Venture Entity. The State may impose an obligation on the Joint Venture partner to syndicate the equity contribution of the State, by providing security of the Free Power Share of the State.

11.2 The State Government would identify the Projects which may be developed through Joint Venture Route.

11.3 The State Government may model its Public Private Partnership (Joint Venture) based on the following criteria :-

- The State should entrust responsibility to the Arunachal Pradesh State Hydro Power Corporation (APHPC) or to any other entity / agency for development of the identified Hydro Power Projects.
- APHPC or any other Agency selected for the purpose should be empowered to develop these projects in Joint Sector to ensure their expeditious development. For every such Joint Venture project, a Special Purpose Vehicle shall be formed.
- To avoid lengthy, cumbersome and expensive process of calling the Open Bids from the market, the State should constitute a High Power Committee which may invite proposals from established private players or take initiatives to approach suitable hydropower development companies for development of the identified power projects in the State through Joint Venture route.
- Companies/private players may be provided a predetermined set of criteria and their response may be elicited on the same, on the basis of which suitable developer/Company may be selected.
- The said predetermined set of criteria should contain following features :-
    - The concessionaire period of 40 years on BOOT basis, after the expiry of which the Project would revert to the State, at no cost to the State.
    - Initially the Project will start with the equity contribution of the State which may be up to 51%, and in due course of time which may be reduced gradually in favour of the selected JV Partner upon the Joint Venture Entity achieving certain identified milestones.
    - However, the State at all times would retain at least 26% of the equity share capital of the Joint Venture Entity so as to exercise effective control on the functioning of the Joint Venture Entity.
    - The State will retain the option to direct the Joint Venture Partner, to arrange for the financing of the equity contribution of the State, to the extent of maximum 26%, upon the State providing the security of its Free Power revenue.
    - The Joint Venture would be obliged to follow the Rehabilitation & Resettlement Policy, 2008 of Arunachal Pradesh, including providing the funds for the local area development of the project area.

- The Private and Government land for the Project will be acquired/ provided by the State, on payment of the compensation by the Joint Venture Entity, in accordance with the policy and rules of the State Government.

11.4 The Joint Venture applicant would have to qualify and exhibit the following Technical and Financial Strength to be eligible for the joint venture :

11.4.1 Technical Strength

- For the project capacity of 1000 MW and below, it should have either commissioned the Hydro Power Projects of the total installed capacity of at least 100 MW or the same should be under construction.
- For the projects of above 1000 MW capacity, it should have either commissioned the Hydro Power Projects of the total installed capacity of at least 500 MW or the same should be under construction.
- For the projects of above 2000 MW capacity, it should have either commissioned the Hydro Power Projects of the total installed capacity of at least 1000 MW or the same should be under construction.

11.4.2 Financial Strength

- For the projects upto 1000 MW, it should have achieved financial closure of the Hydro Power Projects of the total installed capacity of at least 100 MW.
- For the projects above 1000 MW capacity, it should have achieved the financial closure of the Hydro Power Projects of the total installed capacity of at least 500 MW.
- For the projects above 2000 MW capacity, it should have achieved the financial closure of the Hydro Power Projects of the total installed capacity of at least 1000 MW.
- The Joint Venture applicant should provide at least 12% free power of the deliverable energy of the project to the State from the date of commissioning of the Project till the expiry of the concessionaire period.
- The State should develop standard Memorandum of Agreement, to be executed with such Joint Venture applicant, which would apart from including the above said features, comprehensively define the role and responsibility of each partner.

Chapter – XII

Penal Clause

12.1 In the event of failure on the part of the developer to commission the Project within the stipulated period except for the reasons beyond the control of the developer, the developer shall be liable to pay penalty to the State Government for the extended period of commissioning at the rate stipulated hereunder :

Installed capacity	Rate of penalty per MW per month
25 MW – 99 MW	Rs. 10,000
100 MW – 499 MW	Rs. 20,000
500 MW – 999 MW	Rs. 30,000
1000 MW – 1499 MW	Rs. 40,000
2000 MW – 2999 MW	Rs. 50,000
3000 MW and above	Rs. 60,000

Protection of Flora and Fauna

12.2 The developer shall be responsible for upkeep of the ecology of the project area and its surroundings by preventing deforestation, water pollution and defacement of natural landscape. The developer shall take all reasonable measures to prevent any destruction of flora and fauna, scarring or defacement of the natural surroundings within and in the vicinity of the project sites. The developer shall abide by the conditions laid down in the forest, wildlife and environmental clearances accorded by the competent authorities.

Power to Resolve Dispute

12.3 In the event of dispute, the interpretation of the policy guidelines made by the Government of Arunachal Pradesh shall be final.

12.3.1 All other terms and conditions and matters not covered in this policy will be settled as per the policy guidelines issued by the Central Government from time to time.

Commencement

This policy shall come into effect from the date of its publication in the Gazette of State Government of Arunachal Pradesh.

Rule 1 : Title:

These Rules shall be called the Alternative Dispute Resolution (Gauhati High Court) Rules, 2007.

Rule 2 : Procedure for directing parties to opt for alternative modes of settlement :

(a) The Court shall, after recording admissions and denials at the first hearing of the suit under Rule 1 of Order X, and where it appears to the Court that there exist elements of a settlement which may be acceptable to the parties, formulate the terms of settlement and give them to the parties for their observations under sub-section (1) of Section 89, and the parties shall submit to the Court their responses within thirty days of the first hearing.

Provided that the Court, in the exercise of such power, shall not refer any dispute to arbitration or to judicial settlement by a person or institution without the written consent of all the parties to the suit.

Rule 3 : Persons suhtorised to take decision for the Union of India, State Governments and others :

(1) For the purpose of Rule 2, the Union of India or the Government of a State or Union Territory, all local authorities, all public Sector Undertakings, all statutory corporations and all public authorities shall nominate a person or persons or group of persons who are authorized to take a final decision as to the mode of Alternative Dispute Resolution which it proposes to opt for in the event of direction by the Court under Section 89 and such nomination shall be communicated to the High Court within a period of three months from the date of commencement of these Rules and the High Court shall notify all the Subordinate Courts in this behalf as soon as such nomination is received from such Government or authorities.

Rule 4 : Court to give guidance to parties while giving direction to opt :

(a) Before directing the parties to exercise option under clause (b) of Rule 2, the Court shall give such guidance as it deems fit to the parties, by drawing their attention to the relevant factors which parties will have to take into account, before they exercise their options as to the particular mode of settlement, namely :

(i) that it will be to the advantage of the parties, so far as time and expense are concerned, to opt for one or other of these modes of settlement referred to in section 89 rather than seek a trial on the disputes arising in the suit ;

(ii) that, where there is no relationship between the parties which requires to be preserved, it may be in the interest of the parties to seek reference of the matter to arbitration as envisaged in clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 89 ;

(iii) that, where there is a relationship between the parties which requires to be preserved, it may be in the interest of the parties to seek reference of the matter to conciliation or mediation, as envisaged in clauses (b) or (d) of sub-section (1) of section 89 ;

(iv) that, where parties are interested in a final settlement which may lead to a compromise, it will be in the interest of the parties to seek reference of the matter to Lok Adalat or to judicial settlement as envisaged in clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 89 ;

(v) the difference between the different modes of settlement, namely, arbitration, conciliation, mediation and judicial settlement are explained below :

Settlement by 'Arbitration' means the process by which an arbitrator appointed by parties or by the Court, as the case may be, adjudicates the disputes between the parties to the suit and passes an award by the application of the provisions of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 (26 of 1996), in so far as they refer to arbitration.

Settlement by 'Conciliation' means the process by which a conciliator who is appointed by parties or by the Court, as the case may be, conciliates the disputes between the parties to the suit by the application of the provisions of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 (26 of 1996), in so far as they relate to conciliation and in particular, in exercise of his powers under sections 67 and 73 of that act, by making proposals for a settlement of the dispute and by formulating or reformulating the terms of a possible settlement; and has a greater role than a mediator.

Settlement by 'Mediation' means the process by which a mediator appointed by parties or by the Court as the case may be, mediates the dispute between the parties to the suit by the application of the provisions of the Mediation Rules, 2003 in Part II, and in particular, by facilitating discussion between parties directly or by communicating with each other through the mediator, by assisting parties in identifying issues, reducing misunderstandings, clarifying priorities, exploring areas of compromise, generating options in an attempt to solve the dispute and emphasizing that it is the parties' own responsibility for making decisions which affect them.

Settlement in Lok Adalat means settlement by Lok Adalat as contemplated by The Legal Services Authorities Act, 1987.

'Judicial settlement' means a final settlement by way of compromise entered into before a suitable institution or person to which the Court has referred the dispute and which institution or person is deemed to be the Lok Adalat under the provisions of The Legal Service Authorities Act, 1987 (39 of 1987) and where after such reference, the provisions of the said Act apply as if the dispute was referred to a Lok Adalat under the provisions of that Act:

Rule 5 : Procedure for reference by the Court to the different modes of settlement:

(a) Where all parties to the suit decide to exercise their option and to agree for settlement by arbitration, they shall apply to the Court, within thirty days of the direction of the Court under clause (b) of Rule 2 and the Court shall, within thirty days of the said application, refer the matter to arbitration and thereafter the provisions of the Arbitration and conciliation Act, 1996 (26 of 1996) which are applicable after the stage of making of the reference to arbitration under that Act, shall apply as if the proceedings were referred for settlement by way of arbitration under the provisions of that Act.

(b) Where all the parties to the suit decide to exercise their option and to agree for settlement by the Lok Adalat or where one of the parties applies for reference to Lok Adalat, the procedure envisaged under The Legal Services Authorities Act, 1987 and in particular by section 20 of that Act, shall apply.

(c) Where all the parties to the suit decide to exercise their option and to agree for judicial settlement, they shall apply to the Court within thirty days of the direction under clause (b) of Rule 2 and then the Court shall, within thirty days of the application, refer the matter to a suitable institution or person and such institution or person shall be deemed to be a Lok Adalat and thereafter the provisions of The Legal Services Authorities Act, 1987 (39 of 1987) which are applicable after the stage of making of the reference to Lok Adalat under that Act, shall apply as if the proceedings were referred for settlement under the provisions of that Act.

(d) Where none of the parties are willing to agree to opt or agree to refer the dispute to arbitration, or Lok Adalat, or to judicial settlement, within thirty days of the direction of the Court under clause (b) of Rule 2, they shall consider if they could agree for reference to conciliation or mediation, within the same period.

(e) (i) Where all the parties opt and agree for conciliation, they shall apply to the Court, within thirty days of the direction under clause (b) of Rule 2 and the Court shall, within thirty days of the application refer the matter to conciliation and thereafter the provisions of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 (26 of 1996) which are applicable after the stage of making of the reference to conciliation under that Act, shall apply, as if the proceedings were referred for settlement by way of conciliation under the provisions of that Act.

(ii) Where all the parties opt and agree for mediation, they shall apply to the Court, within thirty days of the direction under clause (b) of Rule 2 and the Court shall, within thirty days of the application, refer the matter to mediation and then the Mediation Rules, 2003 in Part II shall apply.

(f) (i) Where under clause (d), all the parties are not able to opt and agree for conciliation or mediation, one or more parties may apply to the Court within thirty days of the direction under clause (b) of Rule 2, seeking settlement through conciliation or mediation, as the case may be, and in that event, the Court shall, within a further period of thirty days issue notice to the other parties to respond to the application, and

(ii) in case all the parties agree for conciliation, the Court shall refer the matter to conciliation and thereafter, the provisions of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 which are applicable after the stage of making of the reference to conciliation under that Act, shall apply;

(iii) in case all the parties agree for mediation, the Court shall refer the matter to mediation in accordance with the Civil Procedure Mediation (Gauhati High Court) Rules 2007, in Part II.

(iv) in case all the parties do not agree and where it appears to the Court that there exist elements of a settlement which may be acceptable to the parties and that there is a relationship between the parties which has to be preserved, the Court shall refer the matter to conciliation or mediation, as the case may be. In case the dispute is referred to conciliation, the provisions of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 which are applicable after the stage of making of the reference to Conciliation under that Act shall and in case the dispute is referred to mediation, the provisions of the Civil Procedure Mediation (Gauhati High Court) Rules 2007, shall apply.

THE GAUHATI HIGH COURT AT GUWAHATI (THE HIGH COURT OF ASSAM, NAGALAND, MEGHALAYA, MANIPUR, TRIPURA, MIZORAM AND ARUNACHAL PRADESH)

NOTIFICATION

The 19th November, 2008

Gauhati High Court Case Management Rules, 2007

No. HC.XI-01/2008/1053/RC# #. In exercise of the powers conferred by Article 225 of the Constitution of India, and Part X of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (5 of 1908) and Article 6 of the Assam High Court Order, 1948 and all other powers enabling it, the Gauhati High Court hereby makes the following Rules :

Gauhati High Court Case Management Rules, 2007

I. Division of cases into different tracks:

1. Writ Petitions: The High Court shall, at the stage of admission or issuing notice before admission categorize the Writ Petitions other than Writ of Habeas Corpus, into three categories depending on the urgency with which the matter should be dealt with: the Fast Track, the Normal Track and the Slow Track. The petitions in the Fast Track shall invariably be disposed of within a period not exceeding six months while the petitions in the Normal Track should not take longer than a year. The petitions in the Slow Track, subject to the pendency of other cases in the Court, should ordinarily be disposed of within a period of two years.

Where an interim order of stay or injunction is granted in respect of liability to tax or demolition or eviction from public premises etc. such a matter shall be put on the Fast Track. Similarly, all matters involving tenders would also be put on the Fast Track. These matters cannot brook delays in disposal.

2. Senior officers of the High Court, nominated for the purpose, shall at intervals of every month, monitor the stage of each case likely to come up for hearing before each Bench (Division Bench or Single Judge) during that month which have been allocated to the different tracks. The details shall be placed before the Chief Justice or Committee nominated for that purpose as well as the concerned Judge dealing with the cases.

3. The Judge or Judges referred to in clause (2) above may shift the case from one track to another, depending upon the complexity (urgency) and other circumstances of the case.

4. Where computerization is available, data will be fed into the computer in such a manner that the court or judge or judges, referred to in clause (2) above will be able to ascertain the position and stage of every case in every track from the computer screen.

5. Whenever the roster changes, the judge concerned who is dealing with final matters shall keep himself informed about the stage of the cases in various tracks listed before him during every week, with a view to seeing that the cases are taken up early.

6. Other matters: The High Court shall also divide civil appeals and other matters in the High Court into different tracks on the lines indicated in sub-clauses (2) to (5) above and the said clauses shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to the civil appeals filed in the High Court. The High Court shall make a subject wise division of the appeals/revision application for allocation into different tracks. (Division of criminal petitions and appeals into different tracks is dealt with separately under the heading 'criminal petitions and appeals')

II. Writ of Habeas Corpus:

Notices in respect of Writ of Habeas Corpus where the person is in custody under orders of a State Government or Central Government shall invariably be issued by the Court at the first listing and shall be made returnable within 48 hours. State Government or Central Government may file a brief return enclosing the relevant documents to justify the detention. The matter shall be listed after notice on the fourth working day after issuance of notice, and the Court shall consider whether a more detailed return to the writ is necessary, and, if so required, shall give further time of a week and three days' time for filing a rejoinder. A Writ of Habeas Corpus shall invariably be disposed of within a period of fifteen days. It shall have preference over and above Fast Track cases.

III. Mode of Advance Service:

The Court rules will provide for mode of service of notice on the standing counsel for respondents wherever available, against whom, interim orders are sought. Such advance service shall generally relate to Governments or public sector undertakings that have standing counsel.

FIRST APPEALS TO HIGH COURT

1. Service of Notice of Appeal:

First appeals being appeals on questions of fact and law, Courts are generally inclined to admit the appeal and it is only in exceptional cases that the appeal is rejected under Order XLI Rule 11 at the admission stage. In view of the amended CPC, a copy of the appeals is required to be filed in the Trial Court. It has been clarified by the Supreme Court that the requirement of filing of appeal in the Trial Court does not mean that the party cannot file an appeal in the Appellate Court (High Court) immediately for obtaining interim orders.

In addition to the process for normal service as per the Code of Civil Procedure, advance notice should simultaneously be given by the counsel for the party who is proposing to file the appeal, to the counsel for the opposite party in the Trial Court itself so as to enable them to inform the parties to appear if they so choose even at the first hearing stage.

2. Filing of documents:

The Appellant shall, on the appeal being admitted, file all the essential papers within such period as may be fixed by the High Court for the purpose of enabling the High Court to understand the scope of the dispute and for the purpose of passing interlocutory orders.

3. Printing or typing of Paper Book :

Printing and preparation of paper-books by the High Court should be done away with. After service of notice is affected, counsel for both sides should agree on the list of documents and evidence to be printed or typed and the same shall be made ready by the parties within the time to be fixed by the Court. Thereafter the paper book shall be got ready. It must be assured that the paper books are ready at least six months in advance before the appeal is taken up for arguments. (Cause lists must specify if paper books have been filed or not).

4. Filing of Written Submissions and time for oral arguments:

Both the appellants and the respondents shall be required to submit their written submissions with all the relevant pages as per the Court paper-books, marked therein within a month of preparation of such paper-books, referred to in para 3 above.

Cause list may indicate if written submissions have been filed. If not, the court must direct that they be filed immediately.

After the written submissions are filed, (with due service of copy to the other side) the matter should be listed before the Registrar/Master for the parties to indicate the time that will be taken for arguments in the appeal. Alternatively, such matters may be listed before a judge in chamber for deciding the time duration and thereafter to fix a date of hearing on a clear date when the requisite extent of time will be available.

In the event that the matter is likely to take a day or more, the High Court may consider having a caution List/Alternative List to meet eventualities where a case gets adjourned due to unavoidable reasons or does not go on before a Court, and those cases may be listed before a Court where, for one reason or another, the scheduled cases are not taken up for hearing.

5. Court may explore possibility of settlement:

At the first hearing of a First Appeal when both parties appear, the Court shall find out if there is a possibility of a settlement. If the parties are agreeable even at that stage for mediation or conciliation, the High Court could make a reference to mediation or conciliation for the said purpose.

If necessary, the process contemplated by Section 89 of CPC may be resorted to by the Appellate court so, however, that the hearing of the appeal is not unnecessarily delayed. Whichever is the ADR process adopted, the Court should fix a date for a report on the ADR two months from the date of reference.

V. Appeals to Division Bench from judgment of Single Judge of High Court [Letter Patent Appeals (LPA) or similar appeals under High Court Acts]:

An appeal to a Division Bench from judgment of a Single Judge may lie in the following cases:

(1) Appeals from interlocutory orders of the Single Judge in original jurisdiction matters including writs: (2) appeals from final judgments of a Single Judge in original jurisdiction; (3) other appeals permitted by any law to a Division Bench.

Appeals against interlocutory orders falling under category (1) above should be invariably filed after advance notice to the opposite counsel (who has appeared before the Single Judge) so that both the sides are represented at the very first hearing of the appeals. If both parties appear at the first hearing, there is no need to serve the opposite side by normal process and at least in some cases, the appeals against interlocutory orders can be disposed of even at the first hearing. If, for any reason, this is not practicable, such appeals against interim orders should be disposed of within a period of a month.

In cases referred to above, necessary documents should be kept ready by the counsel to enable the court to dispose of the appeal against interlocutory matter at the first hearing itself.

In all appeals against interim orders in the High Court, in writs and civil matters, the Court should Endeavour to set down and observe a strict time limit in regard to oral arguments. In case of Original Side appeals LPAs/arising out of final orders in a Writ Petition or arising out of Civil suits filed in the High Court, a flexible times schedule may be followed.

The practice direction in regard to First Appeal should mutatis mutandis apply in respect of LPAs/ Original Side appeals against final judgments of the Single Judge.

Writ Appeals/Letters Patent Appeals arising from orders of the Single Judge in a Writ Petition should be filed with simultaneous service on the counsel for the opposite party who had appeared before the Single Judge or service on the opposite party.

Writ Appeals against interim orders of the Single Judge should invariably be disposed of early and, at any rate, within a period of thirty days from the first hearing. Before Writ Appeals against final orders in Writ Petitions are heard, brief written submissions must be filed by both parties within such time as may be fixed by the Court.

VI. Second Appeals:

Even at the stage of admission, the questions of law with a brief synopsis and written submissions on each of the propositions should be filed so as to enable the Court to consider whether there is a substantial question of law. Wherever the Court is inclined to entertain the appeal, apart from normal procedure for service as per rules, advance notice shall be given to the counsel who had appeared in the first appeal letter Court. The notice should require the respondents to file their written submissions within a period of eight weeks from service of notice. Efforts should be made to complete the hearing of the Second Appeals within a period of six months.

VII. Civil Revision:

A revision petition may be filed under Section 115 of the Code or under any special statue. In some High Courts, petitions under Article 227 of the Constitution of India are registered as civil revision petitions. The practice direction in regard to LPAs and First Appeals to the High Courts, should mutatis mutandis apply in respect of revision petitions.

VIII. Criminal Appeals:

Criminal Appeals should be classified based on offence, sentence and whether the accused is on bail or in jail. Capital punishment cases, rape, sexual offences, dowry death cases should be kept in Track I. Other cases where the accused is not granted bail and is in jail should be kept in Track II. Cases, which affect a large number of persons such as cases of mass cheating, economic offences, illicit liquor tragedy, food adulteration cases, offences of sensitive nature should be kept in Track III. Offences, which are tried by special courts such as POTA, TADA, NDPS, Prevention of Corruption Act, etc., should be kept in Track IV. All other offences should be kept in Track V.

The endeavour should be to complete Track I cases within a period of six months, Track II cases within nine months, Track III within a year, Track IV and Track V within fifteen months.

Wherever an appeal is filed by a person in jail, and also when appeals are filed by the State, the complete paper-books including the evidence, should be filed by the State within such period as may be fixed by Court.

In Appeals against acquittals, steps for appointment of amicus curiae or State Legal Aid Counsel in respect of the accused who do not have a lawyer of their own should be undertaken by the Registry/State Legal Services Authority immediately after completion of four weeks of service of notice. It shall be presumed that in such an event the accused is not in a position to appoint counsel, and within two weeks thereafter a counsel shall be appointed and shall be furnished all the papers.

IX. Note:

Wherever there is any inconsistency between these rules and the provisions of either the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 or the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 or the High Court Act, or any other statute, the provisions of such Codes and Statute shall prevail.

By Order,

C.R. Sarma,
